Analytical part

EEC IAAR Mechanism for strategic planning for the development of accredited educational programs 7M02161 Art management, 7M02154 Film and TV directing is provided through the Development Strategy of T.K. Zhurgenov Kazakh National Academy of Arts for 2016 - 2026, as well as Strategic plans for the development of faculties, plans for the development of educational programs, comprehensive work plans for faculties and annual work plans for graduating departments.

The structure of the plan for the development of educational programs includes sections: analysis of the current situation, development of EP, improvement of EP, improvement of human resources, educational and methodological activities, research activities, creative activities, international activities, educational work, material and technical security.

The individuality of the development of EP 7M02161 Art Management, EP 7M02154 Film and TV directing lies in the fact that the undergraduate designs and carries out his professional, scientific and scientific-pedagogical activities, controls and objectively evaluates the results, owns the methods of self-realization, self-organization.

This ensured the unity of the educational and scientific process - the implementation of scientific research not only at the departments, but also at production bases. Undergraduates conduct research activities at enterprises with which contracts for internships have been concluded.

A highly qualified teaching staff participates in the implementation of accredited programs - teachers of the educational program are researchers in the field of art management, art history, cinema and TV, authors of numerous articles in educational and methodological literature, participants in international scientific conferences, winners of republican competitions and projects (The best teacher of the university , grant funding projects).

At the same time, the problem of insufficient risk management in relation to competition from other universities implementing similar programs, as well as a decrease in interest in the profession and motivation for learning, which had a negative impact on the number of students, was noted.

According to the EEC, thanks to the consistently implemented education quality policy, it was possible to form unique educational programs 7M02161 Art Management and 7M02154 Directing Film and TV, which are developing in accordance with the strategic goals of the university to train competitive specialists based on the integration of education, science and production, which can be in demand both in the national and international labor markets. So the uniqueness of EP 7M02161 Art Management lies in the fact that graduates of the master's program have the skills to organize large-scale projects in the field of art, culture and media; research and development in the field of art management; work in the field of vocational education; conducting expertise in the field of science, art and education. The program takes place in close cooperation with Goldsmiths University (London, UK) and NGO Impact Hub (Almaty, Kazakhstan), which creates a modern educational cluster of international character. The teaching staff of the department use their professional connections with international experts, which resulted in a long-term participation in the British Council program - "Creative Spark" to develop and implement a new discipline - "Creative Entrepreneurship".

Evidence

There is a fairly effective system of information and feedback, which includes: the website of the academy (www.kaznai.edu.kz) and electronic library in T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA. The system for collecting, analyzing and managing information of educational programs 7M02161 Art management, 7M02154 Film and TV directing (profile direction) is carried out on the basis of the use of modern information and communication technologies and software, for example, the department is equipped with computer workstations and software.

The workflow of departments implementing accredited programs uses the Platonus information system for teaching staff and other participants in the educational process - an automated information system that allows you to comprehensively automate the processes of credit and distance learning systems. The system has a centralized database that reflects all real events and processes of the university. And also - an e-learning and testing system LMS MOODLE. Information is stored on the Academy's servers, in the LMS MOODLE system and is available to all interested persons, departments and structures.

The leadership of the academy, departments, the management of the EP and teaching staff are systematically trained in education management programs that contribute to the development of a high-quality educational process.

Analytical part

To assess the quality assurance system of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA organizes the collection and analysis of information in the following areas: 1. Development, implementation and use of information systems. 2. Determining the stakeholder requirement. 3. Analysis of the external and internal environment of the university. 4. Internal audits of processes. 5. Conducting an assessment of the satisfaction of stakeholders with the educational services of the university.

The degree of satisfaction with the needs of teaching staff, staff and students within the framework of accredited EPs is determined using questionnaires, surveys at department meetings, in conversations between students and supervisors in the framework of scientific and educational work. Detected deficiencies are recorded in the protocols of the department, the elimination of deficiencies is also reflected in the decisions of the department.

The effectiveness and efficiency of activities in the context of the EP is determined by constant monitoring, which consists of various forms of quality control: the level of progress, students' achievements, student satisfaction with the implementation of the EP and the quality of education in accredited programs are analyzed.

Achievements of undergraduates in the framework of EP 7M02161 Art Management, 7M02154 Film and TV directing are recorded in the reports of departments and faculty, they are reported on the Academic Councils of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA. The priority direction of the policy of KazNAA is focusing on consumers: identifying their requirements and assessing the degree of compliance with the established requirements. However, there are problems with the recruitment of applicants, so the Academy should be more active in informing the public about the benefits of the programs.

To support the process of employment of graduates, the Academy organizes an annual Job Fair with the participation of employers. The distribution of graduates is carried out by the commission for the distribution of young specialists. Graduating departments and dean's offices on an ongoing basis ensure communication with graduates and form data on career growth.

Employees and teaching staff and students document their consent to the processing of personal data when drawing up an employment contract.

– Rules for organizing the educational process on credit technology of education;

-Rules organization of the educational process on credit technology of education;

-Position on the procedure for scheduling training sessions, examination sessions and final certification;

The formation of individual educational trajectories is carried out on the basis of the Academic Policy and QED, which contains a list of all disciplines of the elective component, indicating the purpose of the study, summary and expected results of the study.

For the development of academic disciplines accredited by EP 7M02161 Art Management, 7M02154 Film and TV directing, there is a sufficient amount of educational and methodological support in the state language: total: 2981 copies, of which educational literature - 2833 copies, educational literature - 25 copies ., scientific fund - 123 copies, provision with educational literature - 29.9%.

Educational trajectory planning (enrollment in disciplines) is carried out in accordance with the academic calendar (Appendix A11 Academic calendar.pdf). The procedure for enrolling in disciplines for the choice of specialties is organized by the department (office) of the registrar in electronic form with methodological and advisory assistance from departments and advisers.

The procedure for enrolling students in the study of disciplines is organized by the Registration Office with the involvement of advisers, departments, deans, the service for organizing and monitoring the educational process, the department of student statistics and analysis.

To provide timely assistance to students in mastering educational programs, the Academy has special structural units, in particular, the Educational Process Organization and Monitoring Service, which consists of such departments as the Student Department, Office Registrar Department, Educational Process Monitoring Department .

The Academy provides the opportunity to freely express one's opinion, criticisms, complaints and suggestions, both orally and in writing in the rector's blog (<https://kaznai.kz/ru/blog-rector/>) on the official website of the Academy.

To activate student self-government, the readiness of young professionals for independent work and labor activity, the development of an active citizenship, the patriotic education of highly qualified specialists who are able to make independent decisions and actively participate in solving creative, social and economic problems, the Academy has a "Service for Combating Corruption and Issues Youth Policy", which consists of the "Department for Social and Educational Work and Youth Policy" and the "Department for the Formation of Anti-Corruption Culture".

All teachers are practitioners in the respective industrial sector. So, for example, the senior lecturer of the department "Art Management and Producing" PhD Sorokina Yu. It integrates innovative techniques from the practice of artists around the world into the educational process in the classroom for the discipline "Creative Thinking in Art". Undergraduates created an archive of creative tasks on Instagram under the hashtag #creativethinkinginart - this allows not only to accumulate interesting tasks for students, but also to promote the EP among young people.

Analytical part

During the implementation of accredited EP, the most frequently used methods are a problem lecture (involves the formulation of a problem, a problem situation and their subsequent resolution), a seminar – dispute (collective discussion of a problem in order to establish ways of its reliable solution), educational discussion (used in the analysis of problem situations when it is necessary to give a simple and unambiguous answer to a question, while alternative answers are assumed), educational cooperation or group work (students combine their intellectual efforts to complete a common task), "brainstorming" (involves collecting as many ideas as possible, freeing students from the inertia of thinking, overcoming the usual train of thought when solving a task), didactic or business game (the student must perform actions similar to those that may take place in his professional activity). The following innovative methods are actively used: the method of problem presentation, the method of projects, problem-search methods.

Decisions on the use of innovations in the educational process are made by the teacher himself, developing the EMCD and determining which teaching methods he will use.

The achievement by each student of the goals of the accredited EP is objectively assessed based on the availability of a feedback system for the use of various teaching methods and evaluation of learning outcomes. The curricula for the areas of training take into account such important components as progression and improvement of knowledge from course to course, focused on the competencies of students.

Individual plans of undergraduates are focused on the unique approach to each student, where support for the autonomy of students is tangibly expressed with simultaneous guidance and assistance from the teacher. So, for example, undergraduates are prepared for subject Olympiads, competitions and festivals, comments are written on independent work, questions are being finalized on lectures according to the SROP schedule, communication is maintained by e-mail with each undergraduate.

The student receives information about the current grading system at the university in the first year during meetings with the dean, head of the graduating department, curator (advisor). The main provisions of knowledge assessment are presented in the Academic Policy.

Transparency of criteria and tools for assessing knowledge is achieved through:

- familiarization of students with the applied criteria for assessing knowledge and the requirements for studying the discipline in accordance with the syllabus, the modular (working) curriculum of the discipline in the first lesson;

- the availability of assessment criteria for students (in syllabuses and EMCD, posted in the electronic library).

A student who does not agree with the results of the examination assessment has the right to appeal. The procedure for granting the right to take a session individually is defined in the Academic Policy.

The university ensures full transparency of the results of knowledge assessment. The results of the current and midterm control, as well as intermediate certification are available to students on the MOODLE educational portal. There is a mobile version of the MOODLE portal, which allows students to quickly view all information from mobile devices.

The student can form his own individual curriculum with fewer credits than established for the development of the educational program of the corresponding level, while increasing the duration of training.

The teaching methods used by teachers are based on knowledge of the principles of higher education pedagogy, which are systematically supported by practical seminars currently held at the academy in an online format. Their effectiveness is due to the fact that all teachers are professional practitioners.

Strengths of EP 7M02161 Art Management and EP 7M02154 Film and TV Directing:

1. Students are given the opportunity to study individual disciplines or modules in other educational institutions, including abroad.

2. Teachers use advanced educational methods aimed at the comprehensive development of knowledge, skills and abilities by students in each individual discipline, and in general - along the entire trajectory of the training direction. The main reserve of teaching methods for accredited programs is the professional activity of teaching staff, since all teachers are constantly engaged in creative work.

EEC recommendations on EP 7M02161 Art Management and EP 7M02154 Film and TV directing:

1. Using human and methodological resources, to provide students with the opportunity to receive education in their chosen language - state or foreign, even when it comes to isolated cases.

2. Shift the focus to the research work of students, develop and implement motivational tools to enhance publication activities, involve them more fully in the research and innovation work of the teaching staff, and stimulate their interest in entering doctoral studies.

3. Develop a well-defined and effective algorithm for the appeals procedure and make this information open and accessible to students.

Evidence

The policy of forming a contingent of students at the academy is to admit people to the number of students who are the most prepared for training in air defense, who have scored the required number of points based on the results of CT and entrance creative exams and only on a paid basis.

The draft plan for the admission of students for the next academic year is considered and discussed at meetings of departments, EMBF, AC and approved by order of the Rector of the Academy. Career guidance work is of a planned nature and includes informing students of OPGE about KazNAA EP, its competitive advantages, and the demand for graduates in the labor market; holding advertising campaigns within the framework of Open Doors Days, field meetings with students of OPGE; holding subject Olympiads, conferences, round tables, competitions and exhibitions at the Academy; placement of information in the media; timely correction of Internet information about the Academy on the official website of KazNAA.

In order to strengthen career guidance, reach a new level of public relations, the Academy's interaction with interested bodies and institutions, prompt study and forecasting of the need for specialists in the educational services market and further improve the image of KazNAA, the departments and OPGE present the information necessary for future applicants in the section " Applicants" on the KazNAA website. The faculties and the Department of Career Guidance, together with the Department of Air Defense of the Academy, develop promotional products and coordinate the activities of the faculties in working with potential applicants and employers. The promotional products contain clearly developed criteria that are accessible to applicants, transparent, describing the conditions of study, the opportunities that the EP provides, as well as future employment opportunities.

The policy of forming a contingent of undergraduates from admission to graduation is ensured by the transparency of procedures that regulate the life cycle of students (from admission to completion). Thus, the rules that govern all periods of study have been developed and approved, and are also available for study on the website. Admission and admission to study at accredited EPs takes place in accordance with Rules on admission to the master's and PhD doctoral studies, approved by the Academic Council of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA on May 28, 2020, protocol No. 10.

The rules that govern all periods of study are developed and approved in the document "Academic policy of T.K. Zhurgenov Kazakh National Academy of Arts", approved by the Academic Council of the RSU "Kazakh National Academy of Arts named after T.K. Zhurgenov" MCS RK dated August 27, 2020 No. 1, and are also available for study on the website <https://kaznai.kz/normativnye-akty-2/>.

Social conditions for undergraduates are under constant control of the management of the EP.

The procedure for recognizing previous learning outcomes and competencies mastered in the framework of academic mobility, as well as additional, formal and non-formal training, is regulated by the provisions approved by the Academic Council of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA (Rules organization of the educational process on credit technology of education; Confession learning outcomes of formal and non-formal education).

The most important part of the system of training highly qualified specialists is the student's research work as a complementary part of the educational process. The research work of the student is carried out in accordance with Regulation on the organization of research work, as well as with the annually approved thematic plans of the departments.

Analytical part

Accredited EPs are based on defined and consistently applied rules that govern all periods of study, including admission, performance, recognition and certification.

The accredited EPs have a defined procedure for the formation of a contingent of students. So, for admission to the EP 7M02161 Art Management / 7M02154 Film and TV Directing, requirements for applicants have been developed and approved.

Determining the professional orientation and professional qualities of applicants is a key aspect of the policy of forming a contingent for all specialties of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA. To implement a systematic policy of forming a contingent of students of T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA a set of measures is being taken to ensure the image of the university as a whole.

The Academy has a model for the formation of a contingent of students, based on the principle of electiveness by applicants and students of the specialty and form of education.

The need for specialists in the field of directing and art management is being studied through a survey of employing institutions. The formation of the contingent of students is also due to the available material, technical and information resources, as well as the human resources of the departments "Direction of screen arts", "Art management and production". Thus, the departments have specialized studio premises, editing and photo and film pavilions, the area of which, per each student, is about 2.5 m rules "Sanitary and epidemiological requirements for educational facilities".

The staff in the areas of training film and TV directors is represented by practitioners with extensive experience in creative work, who have declared themselves in the professional field of art, being people's artists, honored workers of the Republic of Kazakhstan, awarded medals and

As a result of working with the documents presented on the website of the academy, studying the self-assessment report and direct communication with the teaching staff in the form of an interview, the EEC concluded that there is a high potential for staffing accredited programs. All teaching staff involved in the implementation of programs fully comply with the indicators of the personnel policy, as well as the requirements of the standard.

As of February 18, 2022, the Department of Art Management and Producing, which is engaged in the training of specialists in EP 7M02161 Art Management, currently employs only 8 people, of which 100% are full-time teachers. The educational process under the program is provided by a highly qualified teaching staff, including 4 candidates of economic sciences (Moldasheva A.K., Klimova T.G., Musabaev K.M., Musaeva A.A.), 1 doctor of PhD (Sorokina Yu. V.), 1 professor (Baybekov A.), 3 masters (Kumárova A., Tokpan A., Dzhumadilova Zh.). 3 teachers out of 8 who have a PhD degree and published articles in peer-reviewed journals have the opportunity to teach in the magistracy and be supervisors of master's theses, National Institute of Arts and Design named after K. Behzod held a lecture on the topic "Gallery business in Uzbekistan"; teacher Khudaibergenova N.T. - on the topic "Taxation in the Republic of Uzbekistan".

In order to support young teachers, work is underway to create a reserve of personnel, material support is provided for scientific research and internships.

The establishment of long-term labor relations with each employee, based on compliance with the requirements of the Labor Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan, allows the employee to fully realize the existing level of professional competence, as well as improve it with the needs of the Academy and the requirements of the level of job competence of the employee.

All representatives of the teaching staff involved in the educational process successfully combine pedagogical activities with the author's creative practice at specialized enterprises, which provides them with a deep understanding of modern production realities and broadcast it to students.

At the same time, the EEC noted the insufficient level of scientific publication, innovation and grant activity of the teaching staff.

Strengths of EP 7M02161 Art Management and EP 7M02154 Film and TV Directing.

1. Accredited educational programs are implemented by highly professional teaching staff, which gives grounds to talk about the creation of a strong school with a scientific, creative and methodological base.

Evidence

The Commission (EEC) generally notes that the management of the EP creates favorable conditions in the framework of providing the necessary basis for the implementation of the educational process within the framework of the accredited programs 7M02161 Art Management and 7M02154 Film and TV Directing.

The useful study area, owned by the Academy on the right of economic management, meets the requirements of fire safety, qualification requirements for the activities of educational organizations and the requirements of state general educational standards, implemented specialties.

Both educational buildings are provided with both wired high-speed LAN-Internet and Wi-Fi. Students receive information about the ways to access the Internet (login and password) in the library. Also, students outside of class time have access to work on personal computers installed in the library halls, where they can work on assignments for independent work and search for information to implement their creative projects.

The internal network of the Academy is connected to the scientific resources Web of Science and Web of Knowledge, which allows students to search for the latest scientific data in the works of foreign researchers. According to the agreement of the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan for obtaining a National license for the platform web of knowledge publishing houses Thomson Reuters, Springer, Elsevier (Holland), <http://link.springer.com/>, <http://www.iprbookshop.ru/>, <http://thomsonreuters.com/en.html>, <https://www.elsevier.com/>, <http://kazneb.kz/wps/portal/kazneb>, <http://www.polpred.com/>, <https://biblioclub.ru/> the library has free access to full-text world electronic resources in English.

Academic support for students is provided by: admission committee, student department, registrar's office, practice and employment department, call centers, library (<http://elib.kaznai.kz/>).

Support for students at the Academy is also carried out by ensuring public order and the protection of educational buildings and dormitories of the university, ensuring the safety of the material base, the functioning of catering points in educational buildings. The university has a civil defense headquarters, an engineer for safety and labor protection, and there is a permit regime.

Identification of the need for support of various groups and categories of students at the Academy is carried out primarily through the institution of curatorship. After identifying the needs, the advisor directs students to apply to certain departments and services (department, dean's office, registrar's office, psychological counseling office, department of educational work).

Students are supported by advisors, whose main task is to organize educational work with students, promote student self-government and involve students in the socially significant and creative life of the university, promote professional self-determination and professional adaptation of students at the final stage of their studies at the Academy.

The identification of the needs of students is also facilitated by the analysis of the results of the survey, meetings of students with the leadership of the university, contacting the virtual reception (Blog rector).

The sufficiency of physical and technical resources and infrastructure is based on data on a number of factors, among which is the adequacy of the adequacy of library resources. So, in this direction for the EP at T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA has a fund of educational, methodical and scientific literature on general education, basic and major disciplines on paper and electronic media.

Each student during the entire period of study is provided with individual unlimited access to the following personalized information educational resources:

- University official website www.kaznai.kz
- Scientific library
- Electronic library
- Information-analytical complex for managing the educational process.
- Distance learning system.

When distributing, planning and providing educational resources, the Academy takes into account the needs of various groups of students and takes into account the trends of student-centered learning:

- all students are provided with round-the-clock access to information resources and an electronic library;
- the infrastructure of the university and the structure of information systems are designed taking into account the needs of students with disabilities;
- for foreign students there is an adaptation program, which includes a set of measures for socio-psychological and academic support.

The Academy provides regular training and professional development of administrative and managerial staff and support services.

Analytical part

During the work of the EEC, it was confirmed that T.K. Zhurgenov KazNAA ensures the availability of sufficient, accessible and appropriate educational resources and student support services. When distributing, planning and providing educational resources, the Academy takes into account the needs of various groups of students.

The Academy effectively operates various student support services (academic support, social support, technical support, material support), which are characterized by availability and demand. Material assistance is provided to needy students: benefits, scholarships, grants, targeted financial assistance.

In the process of interviews with students, the fact was confirmed that nonresident students are provided with accommodation in a hostel. Accommodation in a hostel is carried out in accordance with the Rules for living in a hostel, in compliance with established sanitary standards. The dormitories provided by the Academy are equipped with all the necessary social infrastructure for organizing the life of students and the diversified development of students. However, it turned out that those living in the hostel have serious transport problems, which causes frequent lateness to classes.

To organize the independent work of students, the university forms and maintains an Electronic Library <http://elib.kaznai.kz/>, containing the methodological developments of university teachers (educational and methodological complex of disciplines, videos, electronic textbooks, electronic publications), high-demand literature, literature for multilingual education. Remote access to the resources of the Digital Library is provided around the clock and can be carried out through local and global networks.

Students of EP 7M02161 Art management have access to cloud storage kaznai-art@mail.ru, which contains video lectures, videos of online events of the department and other useful information. On the MOODLE portal, each teacher uploaded a portfolio with information about his achievements in the field of science, education and social work. And also for each discipline, syllabuses, EMCD, assignments for midterm control, final certification, presentations for lectures, assignments for SIW and SIWT are loaded.

The laboratory fund is equipped with professional equipment that corresponds to modern production realities and is able to provide conditions for the creation of artistic products within the framework of educational, creative and project assignments.

When studying syllabuses in the disciplines of accredited EPs, the presence of outdated literature in some disciplines and the insufficiency of literature in the native language were revealed.

It is also necessary to find opportunities for updating and replacing outdated equipment of educational and creative laboratories, taking into account the specifics of the EP, its subject area, which is associated with a constant qualitative change in equipment and technologies.

Strengths of EP EP 7M02161 Art Management and EP 7M02154 Film and TV Directing.
